

KINGS BOARD

Rules provided by
Mystic Station Designs, LLC

The board and pieces in Mystic Station Designs, LLC Siege can be used to play Kings Board

Object of the game:

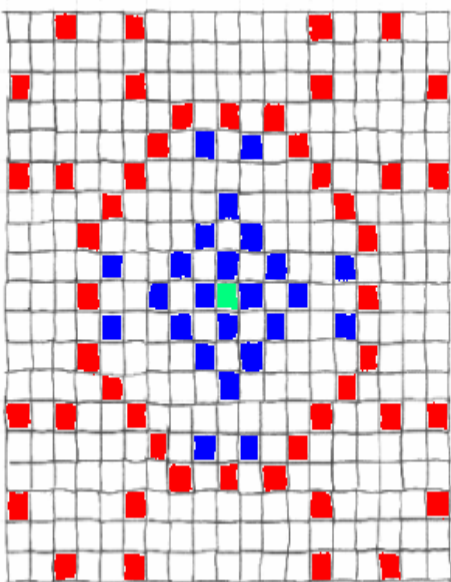

Defenders: To safely remove your king from the board

Attackers: To capture the king

Pieces:

There are two kinds of piece pawns and a king. Both players will have pawns at their disposal, but only the defender will have a king.

Layout :

This is the opening layout for Kings Board. In the green square you place the king. On the Blue squares you place the defending pawns. On the red squares you place the attacking pawns.

Game play:

The attacking player starts the game by making the first move. Each player then takes turns moving a singular piece, until a victor is determined. At no point in time is a player required to bring anything pertaining to the current game to his opponent's attention

Movement:

All pieces move like a rook in the game of chess, which means they may move any number of spaces in a vertical or horizontal fashion. No diagonal movement is allowed by any piece.

Capture:

To capture an opponent's pawn a player must flank the pawn with two (2) pieces of his own. These flanking pieces must be on opposite sides of the pawn trying to be captured. To capture a king the attacker must surround the king with four (4) pieces of his own. This way the king has no way of escape.

Victory:

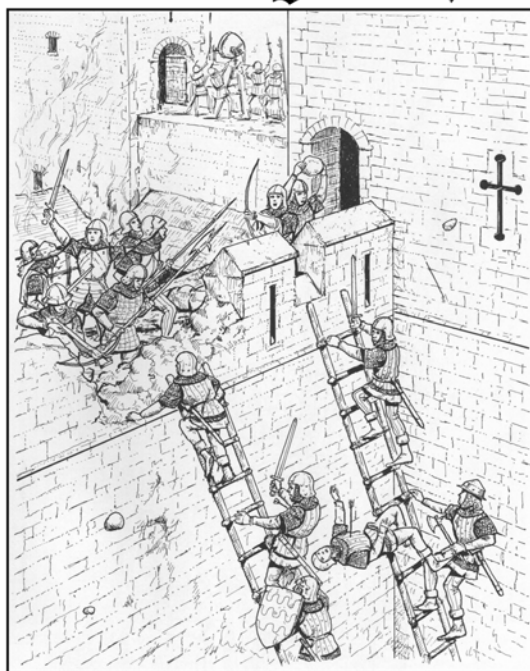

The game is ended when one of these three (3) conditions is met.

- 1) The king has escaped off the board
- 2) The attackers have captured the king
- 3) One of the players coincides the game
